

CALL FOR PAPERS

1st Doctoral Workshop in Finance & Economics

Co-organized By LEFA - IHEC, ECSTRA - IHEC and IPAG Business School Lab

29 March 2017, IHEC Carthage, Tunisia

The aim of the Workshop is to provide Ph.D students at all stages of their research a supportive environment to discuss their doctoral works, and to promote networking and collaboration in the fields of Finance and Economics. The Workshop is also an opportunity for academics and practitioners to meet and exchange ideas about the major (recent) issues and challenges that interrelate Finance and Economics.

The workshop organizers invite the submission of both theoretical and empirical papers relating to all aspects of Finance and Economics. The workshop is open only to doctoral students and focuses on, but not limited to, the following topics:

Market efficiency, asset allocation and valuation	Banking and insurance
Corporate governance	Portfolio management and optimization
Mergers and acquisitions	Risk management and derivatives
Equity and debt issuance	Financial inclusion
Ethical finance and corporate social responsibility	Public debt sustainability
Financial crises and contagion	Sustainable development and governance
Behavioral finance	R&D investment and innovation
Changes in the economic environment and new technological areas	New methods in empirical finance and economics
Volatility and stability in real money and financial markets	Financial econometrics
Islamic banking and finance

Submission and Registration

The workshop registration is free of charge.
